Every day is a celebration—or at least it should be...
And why have just one glass of bubbly when you can have three...?

There seems to be so much fashion in the world of wine.... one day you're in...
But even if Chardonnay occasionally loses its street cred, it will always be the little black dress of white wines.

SWEETNESS · 16

Seriously: There is no shame in having a bit of a sweet tooth. Most beverages we consume contain more than a little sugar, so why wouldn't we like it in our wine...? Also, when it comes to pairing spicy and/or salty foods—nothing performs better.

Glass: Apéritifs

Stimulate your appetite...

KOPKE DRY WHITE PORT: Douro, Portugal · 6.50

White port? Yes, indeed—spicy with rich flavors of banana, apricots and orange zest with a slightly sweet, nutty character... Give it a go on the rocks with a splash of soda... It might be your new favorite...

LILLET BLANC: Podensac, France · 6.50

Since its creation in 1887, Lillet is the only apéritif made in Bordeaux... through its long history, the recipe has changed a bit, and the current manifestation is a blend of wine, fruit liqueurs, fruit and fruit peels aged for up to one year in oak... Soft and appealing, floral and citrusy with just a hint of astringency on the finish... Served on the rocks with a twist of orange...

COCCHI AMERICANO: Asti, Italy · 6.50

This apéritif is for those that appreciate Lillet, but want a little more spice in their lives. The Cocchi recipe has been produced faithfully since 1891—Moscato is aromatized with herbs, fruit, spices and cinchona bark—which is the source of the quinine that gives this beverage its wonderfully cleansing finish... Served on the rocks with a splash of soda and an orange twist...

CHINATI VERGANO 'LULI': Asti, Italy · 10.00

Mauro Vergano was a chemist that used to make aromatized wines to give to friends and family as gifts. Eventually, the quality of those wines and a chorus of encouragement convinced him to turn this hobby into a vocation. The 'Luli' is inspired by the origins of aromatized wines insofar as it employs Moscato d'Asti as its base—thusly giving Mr. Vergano a rather fruity and floral canvas which he augments with the likes of wormwood, quinine, cloves, and orange peels.... Served on the rocks with a twist of orange...

DOLIN DRY VERMOUTH: Chambéry, France · 6.50

Dolin was founded in 1821, and has been using the same recipe ever since... By using quality wine from the Savoy with a mixture of 54 plants and herbs found in the meadows above Chambéry, they create a distinctively light, floral and elegant vermouth suitable for sipping on the rocks...Really, it's not just for martinis...

VYA EXTRA DRY VERMOUTH: Madera, California · 7.00

The genesis of Vermouth dates back to the 1700s...consider Andrew Quady's modern update a re-birth... It will elevate a Martini, for certain—though enjoyed simply on the rocks is the best way to experience its beguiling mixture of floral, herbal and citrus flavors...

Glass: Apéritifs

Stimulate your appetite...

TORO ALBALÁ 'FINO ELÉCTRICO': Montilla-Moriles, Spain · 8.00

If you are a fan of dirty Martinis, here's something for you to try: A dry Pedro Ximénez from the white Albariza soils of the Toro Albalá estate... There is something about the flavor profile of this apéritif—olives and sea salt—that convinced us to serve this wine chilled, in a Martini glass, with a couple of olives.

RAINERA PÉREZ MARÍN 'LA GUITA' MANZANILLA: Sanlúcar de Barrameda, Spain · 7.00

Sherry is not just for old British ladies at bridge club... If you're looking for something tangy and nutty to electrify the palate and take you into your first course—or if you're looking for a fun player for the cheese course, this is the wine... Served chilled...

DUBONNET ROUGE: Bardstown, Kentucky · 6.50

Made to the specifications of the original French formula created in 1846, red wine grapes harvested in the south of France are flavored with a secret blend of spices with a touch of quinine... Served on the rocks with an orange twist....

BONAL GENTIANE-QUINA: St. Laurent-du-Pont, France · 6.50

Known as 'Ouvre l'Appétit'—the key to the appetite... the infusion of gentian root and quinine supply the cleansing properties, and herbs from the grand Chartreuse Mountains supply the myriad of flavors in this unique and complex elixir... The quinine, by the way, contains properties that destroy the plasmodia that cause malaria... Served chilled...

CARPANO ANTICA FORMULA: Torino, Italy · 7.00

If you'd like to step into a flavor time machine, the original formula for this beverage was developed in 1786 by Antonio Benedetto Carpano, who was also said to be the inventor of Vermouth. (Can you imagine a world without the martini?) According to lore, demand for this elixir eventually forced him to keep his shop open 24 hours a day—which is only hard to believe if you've never had it. Served on the rocks. It will change your life.

CAMPARI: Milano, Italy · 8.00

The secret recipe for this rather bracing beverage has been made faithfully since 1860, based on the specifications created by Gaspare Campari—who was not only a master drink maker, but one of the first marketing geniuses. Early in its history, proprietors could access his bottles only if they agreed to also display a Campari sign at their bars. Eventually, Campari melded art and commerce by commissioning poster and calendar creations from international painters and illustrators—a development that forever changed advertising... But it never would've lasted 150 years if it wasn't one of the world's greatest apéritifs. Have it on the rocks with an orange...

BORDEAUX-STYLE

Outside of France, wines fashioned in the style of Bordeaux are sometimes called 'Meritage' blends, or 'Clarets'...(both words, generally, mispronounced)... It doesn't really matter what the label says, so long as they employ the traditional grapes of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Petit Verdot and Malbec. Below are wines exclusively using two or more of these grape varieties.

Twenty years ago, the first Syrah was being planted as an experiment...(for the trivia-minded, the first Washington Syrah debuted in 1988...) Ten years ago, you could still count Washington Syrahs on one hand, but there was a revolution brewing... Today, there are almost 3,000 acres of Syrah being harvested with more on the way...the best offer rich red and black berries, plums, smoked meats, and a dash of pepper...

GASCONY

The vast majority of grapes grown in Gascony are white, actually—and a good number of those grapes end up being distilled as Armagnac. A bit of a rarity, the following wine is comprised of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot with a dash of Tannat and Syrah.

SICHEL: Côtes de Gascogne '07 · 25

PROVENCE

The ancient Greeks planted vines in Provence 2,500 years ago...(but that might have only been because it was so convenient to their favorite beaches)... Grenache, Carignan and Cinsaut are the major players, but there's plenty of Mourvèdre (especially in Bandol), Syrah and Cabernet Sauvignon as well...

LA CROIX PEYRASSOL: Méditerranée '10 · 34

LANGUEDOC-ROUSSILLON

Last time we counted, the Languedoc-Roussillon was the largest wine-growing region in the world, accounting for about two billion (yes, billion) bottles a year... Generalizing such a vast area would be foolhardy, however what can be said is that a lot of creative people producing some really wonderful, original wines here... Carignan, Cinsault, Grenache, Syrah and Mourvèdre are the major grapes, but Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot are proven here as well...

Italian

Italy is responsible for about one-fifth of the world's wine production (which comes to about 8 billion bottles a year, give or take...). No other country on earth has the variety of indigenous grape varieties as found in Italy, either. (Several hundred have been "officially" cataloged...) And take into consideration over 4,000 years of winemaking history, it's a wonder... A sometimes confusing wonder... So we've split things up a bit, according to region... And for the curious, the varieties are listed below each selection in parentheses...

NORTHEAST ITALY REDS

The Veneto traditionally gets all the press in the Northeast, and for good reason...with the famous whites as well as the most famous of reds—Amarone—there is a lot to enjoy... However, the quality wines emerging from its neighbors are worth a look for certain...

CENTRAL ITALY REDS

Ah, Tuscany... Often when images of Italy float through our heads, we picture the Tuscan villa backdrop and a bottle of Chianti... And for many of us, our first introduction to Italian wine was a bottle of Chianti, wrapped in wicker with a candle stuck in its neck... But the days of cheap Chianti are long gone... Tuscany is the undisputed home of Sangiovese, where it is the backbone of Chianti and the engine of Brunello...

PORTUGAL

In the past decade and half, there has been a renaissance of sorts in Portugal. No longer tethered by outdated and constrictive wine laws of the past, growers and producers have started to diversify from traditional fortified wines into dynamic and unique still wines. In these wines, you will find traditional Port varietals (Touriga Nacional, Touriga Franca, Tinta Barroca, Trincadeira) being showcased as still wines, and often blended with more “mainstream” grapes (Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah). Needless to say, these are wines that are as exciting as they are original. And yes, they are hard to pronounce, but rather easy to enjoy...

Digestif

A little digestive aid

CARDAMARO AMARO · 7

If you find most Amaro bitter like Scrooge—allow us to introduce you to the Cratchit family Amaro...actually, the Bosca family of Piedmont is responsible for this recipe, and since it relies on Moscato as the base, this Amaro is a little rounder and smoother than some you may have encountered...the employment of cardoon and blessed thistle (as well as numerous other botanicals) from their family estate infuse this drink with a flavor profile that will bring the Dickens reference full circle.

AVERNA AMARO · 9

"People are searching for something different. If you put Averna at the center of the world, you drink slowly—you talk to each other."—Francesco Averna.

In 1854, the Friars of St. Spiritos Abbey presented to their justice and benefactor, Salvatore Averna, a gift—a unique elixir infused with herbs, roots, flowers, bark, orange peel, and alcohol. Four generations later, the Averna Amaro remains a family business...Il gusto pieno della vita!!

FERNET-BRANCA · 8

Twenty-seven herbs picked in four continents and aged in oak for a year, this grape-based Digestif is a little hard to pin down...it is as much a revitalizing medicine as it is a beverage—but be warned: it's not so subtle.

GREEN CHARTREUSE · 10

The recipe for this distinct liquid is known by only three Chartreuse monks who oversee its production and maturation. It's said that over 130 different plants are used... Some like it neat, but we find it most pleasing on the rocks...

PASTIS · 8

When Absinthe was banned in France 1915, Pastis was created... Add a little sugar... Add a little water...

PACIFIQUE ABSINTHE · 15.00

But if you'd like to do real thing, the 95 year ban on Absinthe has been partially lifted... Please keep in mind, however, that it is still listed by the DEA under the nomenclature of "drugs and chemicals of concern"...

Grappa

It's safe to say that Grappa has garnered a rather negative reputation over the years...(it was not uncommon to hear it referred to as "kerosene" or "Italian moonshine" back in the day...) But times change, and at this point in history we are enjoying a new wave of craft Grappa from both Italy and America... For the uninitiated, grappa is the result of distilling all the leftover material produced from winemaking—aka "the pomace"—grape skins, seeds, and stems. Perhaps the world's finest recycling gesture, Grappa is a potent pleasure best left until the end...

POLI 'PO' ELEGANTE': Schiavon, Italy · 16
(Pinot Noir)

It all started in 1898 with GioBatti Poli wheeling a home-made still on a small cart door to door distilling the neighborhood pomaces.

It then went to his son, Giovanni, who fashioned a still by modifying the steam engine of a train.

Third generation Toni Poli modified the alembic still that they still use today back in 1956.

Today, fourth generation Jacopo Poli oversees the family business with help from his brother and sisters.

This Grappa shows the floral and earthy origin of the raw material on a smooth

CLEAR CREEK DISTILLERY: Portland, Oregon · 9
(Muscat)

Clear Creek Distillery has been producing Grappa and other spirits for a quarter century...

Their Muscat Grappa is full of flowers and spice, and might be the best choice for those new to the Grappa game...

G. BERTAGNOLI: Piana Rotaliana, Italy · 9
(Teroldego)

Four generations of the Bertagnoli family have produced Grappa from the pomace of Teroldego grapes in the Trentino Alto Adige region of Italy... And while one might expect an old-fashioned style of from a 140 year old distillery, the Bertagnoli is a surprisingly delicate, complex, and modern grappa...

SOFT TAIL SPIRITS 'BLANCO': Yakima Valley, Washington · 12
(Merlot, Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon)

It was illegal to distill booze in the state of Washington until the summer of 2008, and soft tail spirits were the first legal operation in western Washington...

their 'blanco' grappa has an uncanny tequila-like profile...

ALEXANDER 'PLATINUM': Amarone, Italy · 10
(Corvina Veronese, Rondinella, Molinara)

The Alexander comes from the Veneto region of Italy—the birthplace of Grappa... Using the pomace from both Amarone and its dessert wine sibling, Recioto di Amarone, the Alexander is a surprisingly soft with all sorts of spice and perfume...

MAROLO: Alba, Italy · 11
(Nebbiolo)

Some might argue that this doesn't belong on the 'grappa' page. (Technically, it's a liqueur...)

However, if you're the kind of person that claims to hate grappa, we invite you to give this a try—grappa that has been infused with Chamomile. The Chamomile flowers are dried before spending close to a year steeping in oak-aged grappa. A truly unique liquid experience...

Brandy

The word “Brandy” is derived from the Dutch word “Brandywijn”, translated literally as “burnt wine”. It’s a rather broad category of booze, and it encompasses not only spirits distilled from wine, but fruits as well. That said, the majority of the following selections are made with wine—in fact it takes approximately ten bottles of wine to make one bottle of Brandy...

COGNAC

Surrounding the town of Cognac, France, are vineyards planted to Ugni Blanc, Folle Blanche and Colombard... And it is from these humble grapes that the world’s benchmark of brandy is produced...

ARMAGNAC

Always in the shadow of Cognac, Armagnacs are for those seeking a little more zing in their snifter. In other words, the kid has a bit more bombast. Think quiet after-dinner discussion of Shakespearean sonnets (Cognac) versus rowdy but well-phrased arguments concerning the origin of man (Armagnac).

USA

While hitch-hiking through Northern California in the summer of 1981, Hubert Germain-Robin was picked up by a former ancient history professor from Berkeley named Ansley Coale. Long story short, the result of this meeting was an antique still making its way from Cognac to Coale’s ranch in Mendocino county...The revolution was making brandy out of world-class grape varietals rather than the traditional grapes of Cognac. The result is undoubtedly one of the finest brandies in the world...

Cocktails: Bubbles

$10 each

THE CLASSIC CHAMPAGNE COCKTAIL: People will argue about the true recipe... Fact is, the bartenders that started calling their creations “Champagne Cocktails” aren’t around to testify, so we’re going with the old stand-by—bitters, sugar, and bubbles with a twist of lemon.

MIMOSA: Though most everybody knows that a Mimosa is orange juice and bubbles, we thought it prudent to mention that we get to use fresh orange juice in ours...

DEATH IN THE AFTERNOON: A cocktail for the bohemians...yes, absinthe is used—and it is legal again...what better way to celebrate than local Pacific Absinthe and bubbles.

KIR ROYALE: You’ve maybe ordered and consumed a “Kir Royale”, but if it wasn’t produced with real Crème de Cassis—you got ripped off... Ours consists of bubbles with a splash of Trénel Crème de Cassis de Bourgogne...

PURPLE ROYALE: Clear Creek Distillery in Portland makes a lovely, intense liqueur using loganberries (a hybrid of raspberries and blackberries)... We use it to make a distinctly Northwest version of the Kir Royale...

THE FRENCH 75: As in 75mm guns used by the French during World War One... Seriously... Sipped by officers just before battle... Gin, fresh squeezed lemon juice (lightly sweetened) with the addition of bubbles... Bang...

THE SALLY BOWLES: It’s not a pre-requisite to have seen Cabaret, though it does give some insight into the drink... German ice wine is mixed with St. Germain elderflower liqueur, a splash of sweetness, and topped off with sparkling wine... Divine decadence, indeed...

SEA CAPTAIN’S SPECIAL: It seems a shame to sacrifice a bottle of Champagne on the bow of newly minted seafaring vessels... Better to save the bottle, throw in some rye, a bit of Pastis and enjoy... Oh, and because the water is sometimes rough, this one’s served on the rocks in a very stable glass...

D’ARTAGNAN: If you can come up with the names of the musketeers (without the aid of your smart phone), we just may buy you one... Though if you can also come up with the author, then we might really have to buy you one... By the way, if one were to spruce up a Mimosa with some Armagnac and Grand Marnier, one would ostensibly have themselves a d’Artagnan...

Beer

Sure, we're a wine bar—but we're enthusiastic about the brewed liquids as well...
A frothy, bubbly, refreshing, sometimes burpy beverage—tasty as an apéritif or a unique and fun change to pair with our food. (We do have pizzas on the menu, after all...)
